Dear Sdians...

It gives me immense sense of fulfilment when I look at the third edition of college e-Magazine 'DARPAN'. The essential purpose of e-magazine 'DARPAN' is to inform, engage and inspire faculty, students, parents, alumni and our stakeholders. This e-magazine endeavors to reflect the values and the long tradition of excellence of the institution itself. Throughout the year campus buzzes with various activities that makes learning experience at SD Gurdaspur, a unique one. The perpetual efforts of the faculty, students and clubs/societies of the college in keeping the campus alive are commendable. Workshops, conferences, competitions, rallies, sports, guest lectures, FDPs, PDPs and a great variety of activities that corroborate academic learning help our students to grow in the real sense.

I congratulate editors for giving practical shape to my idea of e-magazine and wish all the best for inspired and result oriented session.

ROLE OF SARDAR PATEL IN POLITICAL INTEGRATION

BIOGRAPHY:

Sardar Vallabh Bhai Patel “Iron Man of India” was born on 31st October 1875, in a small village in Nadiad. His father Jhaverbhai Patel was a simple farmer and mother Laad Bai was a simple lady. From his childhood itself, Patel was a very hardworking individual.

Political Integration:

At the time of Indian Independence in 1947, India was divided into two sets of territories, the first time or the first being the territories over which the Crown has suzerainty but which were under the control of their hereditary rulers. In addition, there were small several colonial enclaves controlled by France and Portugal. The political integration of these territories into India was a declared objective of the Indian National congress, which the Government of India pursued over the next decade. Through a combination of factors, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel and V.P Menon convinced the rulers of the various princely states to join India.

Reason for Integration:

The termination of paramountcy would have in principle meant that all rights that flowed from the states relationship with the British crown would return to them, leaving them free to negotiate relationships with the new states of India and Pakistan “On a basis of complete freedom”. Early British plans for the transfer of power such as Cripps Mission, recognised the possibility that some princely states might choose to stand out of Independent India. This was unacceptable to the Indian National Congress which regarded this scheme as a Balkanisation of India.

Before India achieved independence, India had around 565 princely states and the congress had a big challenge of persuading them for peacefully merger with India. Congress party entrusted Sardar Patel with this responsibility and Patel took it as challenge of life and successfully executed it.

Sardar Patel as Minister for Home and States Affairs had the responsibility of welding the british Indian Provinces and the princely states into a United India. Sardar Patel took charge of the state’s department in July 1947. He sensed the urgent and imperative need of the integration of princely states. He followed an iron handed policy. He made it clear that he did not recognize the right of any state to remain independent and in isolation within India.

Patel also appealed to patriotic and national sentiments of the princes and invited them to join the forming of a democratic constitution in national interest. He persuaded them to surrender defence, foreign affairs and communication to the government of India. By August 15, 1947 all except Hyderabad, Junagarh and Kashmir had acceded to India. He therefore carried threefold process of assimilation, centralization and unification of states. The states were amalgamated to form a union and that union was merged with union of India.

He handled the Junagarh and Hyderabad Crisis as a seasoned statesman. Nawab of Junagarh wanted to accede to Pakistan when the people revolted, Patel intervened. Indian government took over the administration Patel merged it with India by holding a plebiscite.

Patel with an iron fisted hand subdued the Nizam when the Nizam boasted anti India feelings and let loose a blood bath by the Rozakaris. He ordered the army to march into Hyderabad. The Nizam Surrendered and Hyderabad was acceded to India.

Thus, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel ensured by his calculated methods, the absorption of a multitude of princely states into the Indian Union. Without a Civil War, he secured the solidarity of the nation.

The spectacular success of Sardar Patel in unifying around 565 princely States of India made him the natural claimant for the title of "Iron Man". He delivered what was expected from him under hostile conditions and it was a testimony to his steel like determination and rock like courage.

TIPS FOR UGC NET PREPRATION

The National Educational Testing Bureau of University Grants Commission conducts National Eligibility Test (NET) to determine eligibility for lectureship and for award of Junior Research Fellowship (JRF) in order to ensure minimum standards for the entrants in the teaching profession and research. Candidates who have secured at least 55% marks (without rounding off) in their Master Degree from universities /institutions recognised by UGC are eligible for this test. Candidates who have successfully cleared UGC-NET are also eligible to get lucrative jobs offered by Public Sector Undertakings (PSUs). Based on UGC-NET scores, PSUs recruit candidates for posts of executives in various disciplines like science and R&D, management, corporate communications, human resources, and finance.

NTA NET is one of the most renowned and prestigious national-level exams. Every year lakhs of students appear for this examination to become an Assistant Professor or JRF. This makes NTA NET to be the toughest higher education exam. If you wish to qualify, then you must follow the proper UGC NET preparation strategy.

Following are some Preparation Tips for UGC NTA NET exam:

Step 1: Note Down the Exam Syllabus and Pattern

- a) The NET Exam is divided into 2 papers. Paper-I is General Aptitude and Paper-II is subject-specific.
- b) Before starting UGC NET exam preparation you must know the complete NET Syllabus.

Step 2: Make Time Table for Preparation

- a) First of all, make a time table and allot 100 days for preparation of Paper-I and Paper-II. According to this timetable, divide each topic week wise.
- b) During preparation time make summary notes for each and every topic.

Step 3: Refer Good UGC NET Preparation Material

- a) To start your UGC NET preparation, you must refer to the study material designed by the exam experts.
- b) Do not depend on one type of material; try to get more and more information from different books, YouTube series, various blogs and websites and also from video tutorials.
- c) Choose the expert UGC NET study material that covers all the topics in an easy-to-understand method.

Step 4: Solve Papers and Online Mock Tests to evaluate yourself

- a) Solving MCQ questions is an important part of the UGC NET exam preparation.
- b) You must practice solving previous year papers of UGC NET & mock tests designed by qualified faculty.

Step 5: Stay Updated

Keep yourself updated with the latest news about the NTA NET Exam. It is important to have complete knowledge of UGC NET Notifications.

Create a customized study plan using the complete syllabus. If you properly plan your schedule only then you'll be able to complete the syllabus well on time. Try solving previous year papers.

This strategy will help you increase your speed and accuracy to attempt as many questions as possible with maximum accuracy. Time Management plays a very important role in UGC NET preparation. It's not necessary to study all the time, just make sure you fully concentrate and focus on what you are reading during your study hours. I advise you to divide the topics as per marking weightage and importance. Keeping these methodologies and techniques in mind while preparing for the exam, you'll definitely be able to crack this exam.
